CONSERVATIVE STATE CONVENTION

According to previous notice, the Conservative Democrats from different parts of the State met at the City Hall, in this City yesterday at eleven o'clock, A. M. The meeting was called to order by Hon. WILLIAM EMERSON, of Bangor, who nominated Gen. JAMES IRISH of Gorham, for President of the Convention, and he was accordingly chosen.

On motion of JOHN HODONON, Esq. of Bangor, it was voted to choose two Vice Presidents, and Col. DANIEL LANE, of Belfast, and Gen. SAM'L VEAZIE, of Bangor, were chosen.

On motion of ALLEN HAINES, Esq. of Bangor, it was voted to choose two Secretaries, and OLIVER FROST, of Bangor, and FREDERIC P. INGERS, of Frankfort, were chosen.

The Convention was then addressed by BENJ. SHAW, Esq. of Frankfort, who spoke of the formation of the great democratic party under Thomas Jefferson, which party was now attempted to be overthrown and destroyed by a sect of political blue-lights, who were well denominated Loco Focos. He adverted to their violent abuse of the unchanged democrats, and recapitulated their articles of faith, as had already appeared in the papers of the day. He stated that their great project for a union of the purse and the sword was the Sub-Treasury system, that their doctrines were those of the old federalists, and they should be denominated federal locofocos. Their leaders, he said, were aristocrats, men who had got above work, and were seeking for office for support and advancement - that they desired all the honors, without possessing the merit. He adverted to the locofoco subscription in the New York Custom House, where old and tried democrats had been removed to give place to these political blue-lights. He also alluded to the proscription in this district, where an unchanged democrat, who had served his country in its battles, and whose circumstances were at this time in a very embarrassed state, was removed and a young, wealthy, federal locofoco appointed in his stead. He said there was no just cause for the gloom and ruin which now pervaded the community - nothing was wanted but a restoration of confidence, and this the President had the power of doing at a moment's warning. He alluded to the locofoco nomination for the Gubernatorial Chair, the man, said he, who has voted for every measure that has conspired to bring the country into ruin. The political blue-lights have already parcelled out the offices and promised them they were sending emissaries about to pacify and influence the unchanged democrats, whom they had sentenced to be hung and now wish them to aid in erecting their own gallows. For one, said Mr. Shaw, I am not disposed to assist in building the gallows for myself. The unchanged democrats have saved the country from the Sub-Treasury, he continued, and now they must save the State by a nomination of an unchanged democrat, for we hold the balance of power.

On motion of JOHN HODONON, Esq. a committee of twenty, afterwards amended on motion of HENRY WARREN, of Bangor, to fifty was, on further motion of Hon. JONATHAN BURR, of Brewer, appointed by the President, to report to the Convention the name of a suitable Candidate for the office of Governor.

On motion of THOMAS A. HILL, Esq. of Bangor, a Committee of fifteen was appointed by the Chair to draft resolutions and prepare an address to the people of the State.

On motion of Mr. Burr, it was voted to choose a State Committee to be composed of one from each County, to be nominated by the chair. Before the nomination was made, the Convention adjourned to 2 o'clock P. M.

ATTENDEES - The President announced the names of the State Committee for the ensuing year.

SAMUEL SYVRETT, Esq. of Bangor, Chairman of the Committee to report to the Convention the name of a suitable candidate for Governor, reported the name of

HON. FRANCIS O. J. SMITH

Which report was unanimously accepted.

JON HODONON, Esq. Chairman of the Committee of Resolutions, reported a series of sound and spirited Resolutions. He also presented an Address to the People of the State, which, with the P. S. Add., was accepted unanimously.

ALLEN HAINES, Esq. offered a Resolution approving the name of Hon. F. O. J. Smith for the nomination of a all fair and honorable means to secure his election, which was unanimously adopted.

RESOLUTION of JOHN BARONET, Jr. Esq. of Bangor, it was voted to publish the proceedings of the Convention in the unchanged democratic press of the State.

The Convention then adjourned.

CONSERVATIVE COUNTY CONVENTION

of SAMUEL SYVRETT, Esq. of Bangor, as Chairman, and Mr. JOHN WHALEY, of Bangor, as Secretary.

It was voted, that a Committee of twenty be nominated by the chair, to report the names of suitable persons as Candidates for the State Senate, a County Treasurer, and a County committee of three for the ensuing year. The Committee reported as follows, viz:

PAUL RUGGLES, of Carmel, } For NATH'L TREAT, of Orono, } Senators SAMUEL P. STRICKLAND, of Bangor, for County Treasurer, which report was unanimously accepted.

A committee of five was, on motion, nominated from the Chair to draft Resolutions expressive of the sense of the Convention, who reported accordingly, and the report was unanimously accepted. The Convention then adjourned without day.

CONSERVATIVE DISTRICT CONVENTION

Immediately after the adjournment of the County Convention, another Convention for the purpose of nominating a Conservative candidate for Congress was organized by the choice of Hon. JOHN BURR, as Chairman, and JOHN SANGSTER, Jr. Esq. as Secretary.

A Committee was chosen to confer with the Somerset portion of the District and report on the 2d of August, to which time the Convention adjourned.

ANONYMOUS SCRIBBLERS.

Our attention has been directed by a subscriber to an article in the Boston Courier, on the proceedings of the American Health Convention, recently held at Boston. We have been amused with the nonsensical tenor of the article, and think the subject, as treated by certain people of the present day, pretty fair game for witicism. We do not, in this case however, see any very good reason for the remarks made in that article upon the speech of Mr. Mason, of our city. The remarks, to be sure, as far as he is concerned, are perfectly harmless, but they tend, however, to make the writer appear in a more ridiculous point of view than he intended to make the former gentleman appear. The unsophisticated down-easter's remarks do not suffer in comparison with those of the anonymous scribbler of the Boston Courier. We dare say that Mr. Mason does not feel himself aggrieved by this feeble attempt to make him ridiculous. It is not for this reason that we allude to the article, for Mr. Mason can take care of himself; but when a thrust is made at Bangor, you touch the apple of our eye. Mr. M. had remarked that of 'animal food, fat, oils, condiments, narcotics and stimulants,' there had not been eaten the four years past in his family more than "could be put into his hat." Upon this, the anonymous scribbler wishes to know "how big is Mr. Mason's hat," and adds that he has seen hats bigger than hogheads." By way of information, we would say to him that his hat is about the medium size. With regard to the latter assertion of the Courier correspondent, we may be strongly inclined to believe there is some truth in it, and that he has seen the reflection of a head somewhat fitted to that size of hats, as the old adage, "a great head and little wit" seems peculiarly applicable to his case. He queries whether "the rogue," as he is pleased to nominate Mr. Mason, "has any hat at all." We can settle his doubts by assuring him that Mr. Mason has a hat, and we moreover believe, he keeps hats to sell in his store, but it is a question with us whether he has any large enough for the Courier correspondent.

"In the second place," he continues, "so far from wondering at the short commons of people, we wonder, on the contrary, that they get so much to eat; for, if half the tales be true that we have heard of Bangor, we think a man is lucky indeed, who gets a hat full of victuals there, once in four years. We consider this part of the affair very suspicious, and well fit for more light." We concede that the "wondering" bump must be somewhat prominent upon the large pate of the Courier correspondent, and really think, that if he was told there were "no snakes in Virginia," he would believe it. There is undoubtedly some foundation for his wonder, inasmuch as he may suppose that Bangor people are entirely dependent on the "four years" paper of Bostonians for their "victuals." To be sure we got one "quarter down," but when the "balance in one, two, three and four years" was to come, it was very much like the Daddy's flea. We assure him that there is enough "to eat" in Bangor that, as he don't apprehend any serious trouble from the carnivorous propensities of Bangoreans, he had better give us a call, if he has got any change and that Col. Hayes can supply him with everything desirable by reasonable men, but if he can't, the Boston correspondent may "go to grass." To conclude, this scribbler, if he has any regard to decency, will not retail any more of his "cock and bull" stories about Bangor.

Mr. AND MRS. HORN the celebrated singers are giving Concerts in Portland. The Portland Advertiser thus speaks of their performance.

"The entertainment of Monday evening, was a rich musical treat, that delighted we believe every one of a numerous audience. Mr. Horn is distinguished throughout the country as a Pianist, Composer and Singer. Mrs. Horn is a Contralto of the very first order, and when a sweetness of voice has hardly been equalled in this country. She has not the bairns of fine F. in which she is Mrs. Horn, at the age of redundancy, a rolling oration of Madame Caradori, but her brilliancy is above, a critic and always pleasing."

The citizens of Bangor will have an opportunity, of hearing the "all-concert artiste," as we understand they will give a concert in this place on Monday evening next.

CONSERVATIVE COUNTY CONVENTION

After the State Convention had departed, a County Convention was organized by the chair.

17 We were about to answer a base attack on the State's reputation in the Eastern Argus, when we noticed the following able expose of the same in the Portland Advertiser, which we give entire to our readers. We expect such base calumnies from the Loco-foco, but they shall not pass unheeded by us.

"HUMBUG EXPOSED."

THE ARGUS.

The Portland Argus is just now pursuing a very characteristic course, and one originating from even the very worst of bad motives, and calculated especially to injure the best interests of the State of Maine. The Editor designs to make war upon Governor Kent, and for this purpose consents to wield a two-edged weapon, which even if it wounds the Governor of the State at all, is sure to prove ten-fold more injurious to Maine, than to the man whom the Argus would meanly and maliciously injure.

Under the striking caption of "Humbug Exposed," it has an article relative to the Aroostook lands, which article we venture to predict, if generally read and believed, will do more injury to the State of Maine, than everything the Argus has ever said or done in favor of the State.

Is it not strange that the party prejudices of an Editor in Maine, earning his bread among us, dependent upon the State, and the People of the State, for all he is, and all he has, should dare him go far to forget himself as to indulge in a low piece of petty spite for the sake of defeating a Whig candidate for Governor.

But new, as usual, facts are against the opinions of the Editor. THE TRUTH IS NOT CROSS-TO-SIDE. And the attempt to speculate upon the Aroostook lands, like the attempt to speculate upon Cilley's blood and Cilley's likenesses, will prove poor business and result in the disgrace of the originators of, and the actors in, so nefarious a scheme.

Passing by the attempt of the Argus to injure our Maine public lands, to stop emigration, to check the tide of our prosperity, we offer one of the many examples, ready if need be, to be swayed, for the purpose of testing the value of the lands upon the Aroostook. A settler by our side who has been upon the Aroostook, who knows the latitude and longitude of all the townships in market, informs that the article in the Argus has scarcely a word of truth in it.

He assures us, and is ready to make good the fact by affidavit that one man, who settled upon the Aroostook five years ago, who then sold all that he had and left home with less than $200 in his pocket, lost year end at his own door, for cash in hand, provisions raised upon his own farm to the amount of TWENTY TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS! He entered the wilderness a poor man, sold the furniture in his house to pay his expenses there, bought his land upon credit, and in five years he has made one payment for his land, built him a barn worth more than $600, is now building him a large two story house, has his farm well stocked, and has cleared up forty acres of land! This man stands alone among the settlers on the Aroostook. Others are doing as well as he, and it is such men, the very soul and hope of the interior of our State, the Argus would discourage from emigration and drive from our very borders even when here - and all too for the very patriotic purpose of defeating the re-election of Governor Kent. The Argus says:

"We are told that during the month of May, about six hundred men took up their line of march for the promised land not presuming to doubt that they should find it all that had been represented. On arriving there, as we are informed by one who knows something of the matter by experience, the township particularly designated for settlement by the Land Agent, and declared by him to have been 'otted out,' was found to contain eighteen thousand acres of bog," &c.

We deny the statement of the Argus, and we call for proof. We deny that six hundred, or five hundred, or four hundred, or more than one half of six hundred men have been upon the Aroostook thus far during the whole of the present year, and yet we are told that during the month of May about 600 men took up the line of march for the promised land! It may mean from January to July, the assertion would be half true, for we have the very best authority from the settlers themselves for denying the whole statement as made in the Argus. In the Township No. four, for which we are told the township particularly designated for settlement by the Land Agent, and declared by him to have been "otted out," was found to contain eighteen thousand acres of bog," &c.

We deny the statement of the Argus, and we call for proof. We deny that six hundred, or five hundred, or four hundred, or more than one half of six hundred men have been upon the Aroostook thus far during the whole of the present year, and yet we are told that during the month of May about 600 men took up the line of march for the promised land!

But an examination into the details of this Government purchase, as it appears by the record, furnishes very good reasons for those concerned being chary of their words in relation to the matter. It is a subject upon which "the least said is easiest mended." The very poorest portions of the lands in question, so far as locality and every other desirable quality is concerned, appear to have been appraised, and received by Government, at the enormous price of fifteen cents per square foot; when, if the same lands were to be sold at auction tomorrow they would not bring more than one cent and a half per foot.

They originally cost the Association, we believe, about two and a quarter cents per foot, and thus has a debt of $160,000 been wiped out for $20,000. It is a rather poor business for Government, as we look at it, to pay fifteen cent per foot for lands, when it is selling its own lands, in better locations, at the maximum price of one dollar and fifty cents per acre.

Upon this, the anonymous scribbler wishes to know "how big is Mr. Mason's hat," and adds that he has seen hats bigger than hogheads." By way of information, we would say to him that his hat is about the medium size. With regard to the latter assertion of the Courier correspondent, we may be strongly inclined to believe there is some truth in it, and that he has seen the reflection of a head somewhat fitted to that size of hats, as the old adage, "a great head and little wit" seems peculiarly applicable to his case.

He queries whether "the rogue," as he is pleased to nominate Mr. Mason, "has any hat at all." We can settle his doubts by assuring him that Mr. Mason has a hat, and we moreover believe, he keeps hats to sell in his store, but it is a question with us whether he has any large enough for the Courier correspondent.

"In the second place," he continues, "so far from wondering at the short commons of people, we wonder, on the contrary, that they get so much to eat; for, if half the tales be true that we have heard of Bangor, we think a man is lucky indeed, who gets a hat full of victuals there, once in four years. We consider this part of the affair very suspicious, and well fit for more light." We concede that the "wondering" bump must be somewhat prominent upon the large pate of the Courier correspondent, and really think, that if he was told there were "no snakes in Virginia," he would believe it. There is undoubtedly some foundation for his wonder, inasmuch as he may suppose that Bangor people are entirely dependent on the "four years" paper of Bostonians for their "victuals."

To be sure we got one "quarter down," but when the "balance in one, two, three and four years" was to come, it was very much like the Daddy's flea. We assure him that there is enough "to eat" in Bangor that, as he don't apprehend any serious trouble from the carnivorous propensities of Bangoreans, he had better give us a call, if he has got any change and that Col. Hayes can supply him with everything desirable by reasonable men, but if he can't, the Boston correspondent may "go to grass."

To conclude, this scribbler, if he has any regard to decency, will not retail any more of his "cock and bull" stories about Bangor.

Keep your temper. There was no "unscrupulous deception," no "contemptible trick," no "bare-faced imposition" about it. The "back-track" for the most part, was taken simply because an examination of the promised land proved that it would be more convenient and more economical to settle upon the public lands after the public land, now in progress, had been finished. But for Loco Foco Senate, this road would now have been in a way of speedy completion. The Whig House of Representatives provided provisions for its completion, and the Loco Foco Senate defeated the provision of the House. The Aroostook settlers will remember this in September, as well as in the winter, who would have settled upon the Aroostook but for the unwise and parsimonious legislation of the Maine Senate. Many persons have already purchased land upon the Aroostook with the intention of improving their lands the et cetera of the year.

In conclusion we give below an extract from a letter of the Portland Correspondent of the Argus. It is of itself a good comment upon the ill-advised and unjust article in the Argus and speaks but truly of the value of the public lands upland Aroostook. As for the Editor of the Argus, he deserves to be exposed as an enemy of the State. For we say in all sincerity we could wish to unite heart and hand with our political foes in the advancement of our State, in bettering her condition, in promoting all her interests, whether in bringing to active life the resources of the State, increasing the wealth of our population or adding to the happiness of our People. We therefore regret to see a political enemy of the Governor of Maine, merely because he is a political enemy, making war upon the best interests of this State.

The following is the article from the Portland Advertiser:

"Many persons in this state, principally young farmers and mechanics, are on the point of emigrating to, and settling on, the Aroostook territory, which offers every facility to enterprise, whether aided by capital or not. Our legislature passed an act at their last session to "promote the sale and settlement of the public lands," which offers grand inducements to the capable and industrious. The statute provides that whenever each select a lot of one hundred and sixty acres of land, and give satisfactory bonds that they will within three years erect a saw and grist mill on the same, the land agent is authorized to give a good and sufficient deed thereof, without further consideration, save the settling dues required by law. This land is well timbered, and the Aroostook river and its tributaries afford abundant facilities for the erection of waterfalls, mills, &c. On the south side of the river a mine of iron ore has been discovered and examined by the geologist, Dr. Jackson, which furnaces are put in operation, will be a great source of wealth to settlers in that region. Implements of husbandry may be easily manufactured on the spot, making even the wilderness a home with business and activity."

Outrageous Fraud upon the Government.

At the time of the failure of the Commonwealth Bank at Boston it was understood that the institution was indebted to the Government to an amount something like $300,000. It has since been stated that the Government has received its pay. The Boston Times shows the way in which it was done.

The Warren Association, which purchased an extensive tract of land in South Boston, and which was composed in a great measure of the officers and stockholders of the Commonwealth Bank owed that Bank, for money borrowed to build the Mount Washington House, and make certain improvements on their lands, the amount of more than one hundred and sixty thousand dollars, or nearly one half of the debt of the Bank to the Government. The Association failed along with the Bank; and in fact their interests appear to have been completely identified.

A negotiation was soon entered into with the Government, through the agency, it is said, of the District attorney, who is, or has been, a reputed owner of stock in the Association, for a transfer of a portion of the lands of the Association to the Government, in order to rub off at once the debt of the Association to the Bank, and an equal amount of the Bank's debt to the Government. So far, of course, the transaction appears perfectly fair and plausible; as it is not yet considered entirely dishonorable, though rather unfashionable, especially among a certain description of corporations, to pay honest debts.

But an examination into the details of this Government purchase, as it appears by the record, furnishes very good reasons for those concerned being chary of their words in relation to the matter. It is a subject upon which "the least said is easiest mended." The very poorest portions of the lands in question, so far as locality and every other desirable quality is concerned, appear to have been appraised, and received by Government, at the enormous price of fifteen cents per square foot; when, if the same lands were to be sold at auction tomorrow they would not bring more than one cent and a half per foot.

They originally cost the Association, we believe, about two and a quarter cents per foot, and thus has a debt of $160,000 been wiped out for $20,0

DR. BRANDRETH'S GENUINE PILLS

Doctor Sangrado's system still

Lives in the world, to kill still, and is practised by the very men who laugh at Doctor Sangrado as a visionary fool. The immaculate Faculty! Let this truth be impressed upon every mind that all pain and weakness proceed from the presence of morbid, stagnant and corrupt humors in the body by which the circulation of the blood is impeded, and that the only sensible method is to remove them from the stomach & bowels, then take Brandreth's Pills concocted forth from the pure products of the earth;

They own no other sad annoy,

They often save, but never destroy.

BLEEDING ALWAYS IMPROPER,

For the life of the flesh is in the blood," Leviticus chapter xxi. 11. When the properties of BRANDRETH'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS shall have been appreciated bleeding will no longer be thought of as a remedy for diseases, for in violent inflammations, eight or ten of them will take in the course of two or three hours, more of the impure humors from the body by the stomach and bowels, then bleeding to the extent of forty ounces could possibly have done and it should be remembered that the PILLS remove ONLY those parts from the blood which were the cause of inflammation, whereas bleeding removes the essential parts also. How great the prostration of all the corporel it is to suffer a copious bleeding! On the contrary when agility and strength is left after a dose of this medicine, the body is indeed lightened of a load. Nothing is equal to ridding the vitiated humors with a vegetable medicine of this kind which 84 years have proved never to do any injury but always good. In the pulse too high? A dose of PILLS will bring it down. Is it too low? the same means will increase it to proper standard. Is it tremulous, showing nervous excitement? The PILLS by sooth the system will allay it.

1100 lbs. of the most respectable citizens of the United States will be referred to with pleasure by Dr. B who have for many years been in the habit of using them as often as four times in a year, and whose constitutions, in consequence, were becoming weaker and weaker but who, since they have made use of these PILLS, have never lost a drop of their precious blood. When any of their old symptoms appeared instead of running to a Doctor and having a vein opened, they have swallowed six or eight PILLS which soon removed the irritated humors that were impeding the blood in its circulation. These PILLS are simple by the use of these invaluable medicine are increasing every day the power both of body and mind which by the practice of bleeding, were both becoming dreadfully impaired.

The following cases of cure by the use of Brandreth's PILLS alone, are submitted with respect to the unprinted portion of the Boston public.

ASTHMA CURED. The following extraordinary case of Asthma, which is authenticated by several respectable and well known physicians of Greenwich, Ct., deserves, by all persons a careful perusal. The most prejudiced must own that evidence is on the side of these PILLS which, by the cures they are daily making show there is no access for any other medicine.

This is to certify that Thomas S. Brown of Greenwich, Ct. was taken with a cold, hoarse feeling on the 15th of June last. He began to cough and raise phlegm and in the course of twenty four hours about two quarts of thick white jelly was expectorated. Three physicians in Stamford Greenwich and New Haven pronounced it a nervous humored Asthma and after prescribing for some time to no effect, the three consulted together, and finally declared that they could do him no good, it would only result in consumption, and death would ensue and that in a very short time. The pain was excessive in all parts of his body and the difficulty in breathing was such as almost to cause strangulation. He was reduced to a mere skeleton and finally gave himself up to death. After being in this miserable state nearly two months he saw an advertisement of Dr. Brandreth's Vegetable Universal PILLS and hurriedly sent by Capt. J. Waring of Greenwich for a box and found relief in the course of a few days which encouraged him to persevere, and now having taken them for about four months according to the direction is entirely recovered, and so far as we can judge in consequence of taking the above PILLS, which we have also used in our families, and have found them in valuable.

To Dr. B. Brandreth

My dear Sir. I write a few lines to inform you that I have been making use of your Vegetable Universal PILLS. I have been afflicted with a complaint supposed to be caused by PAINT it was subject to a great coldness through my whole system, attended with frequent pain and severe chills; for the year, I have also been subject to fits, which would seize me in the night and when I have come to myself, I have been as weak as a child. I am ready to state the facts more particularly, and how the medicine acted upon me, as my residence No. 17 Sudbury street, to any one who wishes to inquire.

I feel the medicine has been of very great service and that the diseases under which I labored have been by it ENTIRELY REMOVED, for which I shall ever feel grateful Providence and to you

Believe me to remain

Very respectfully,
